

Pack of Lies

Directed by Derek Holland

I felt I had to write to say how much I enjoyed the Saturday night performance. I rarely have the chance to watch from the front of one of our productions and this gave me a chance not only to fully see the play but also to share and observe from the audience point of view.

I know I'm biased on our productions, but I felt a huge feeling of pride that here we go again with a production, at a level on all counts, that would have been perfectly at home in the West End. The acting was superb, the direction had obviously been subtle, clever and obtaining mixtures of humour, passion and emotion. Robert's set design, Mark's construction, and Robert and Victoria's set-dressing perfect. Lighting and sound likewise.

The comments from my table and from others in the Hall, and then Sunday and today, have all been enormously enthusiastic. Yet again the Players have shown that we produce and uphold an extraordinarily high standard, and provide for Rotherfield and afar, entertainment of which to be proud.
